

Client Looking for Investment Property

Hi All,

My client is interested in finding a potential investment property that can either be built for a small condo building or a building that could be renovated. She is really looking to develop something from the ground up, renovate existing building as a build out, or piece of property that she can build on in and around the area, but does not have to be downtown.

Please email only so I may share with my client.

Thank you,
Brian
