

ISLAND REALTY

Vacation Rentals | Long-Term Rentals | Property Management

Is your client interested in leasing their property? We can help!

Our dedicated team of property management professionals will take care of your client the same way you have. We will guide your client through the rental process just as you have guided him or her through the buying or selling process. Rest assured, your client will receive the most specialized attention through their property manager.

Does your client's home have investment potential? It can still be rented, even if it's on the market.

Our property management team rented this home in just five days!

When we successfully sign your client to our long-term rent program, we will reward you with a referral fee.
